Dear Parents:

I am the boys' basketball coach at Desert Mountain High School and I am excited to introduce our summer basketball camp this June. Our camp is the ONLY one-week boys' basketball camp offered in our school district.

My commitment to conducting the best fundamental basketball camps is second only to having as much fun as possible. Becoming a good player is hard work, but I believe the game should always remain fun.

Each camper will receive a t-shirt, a Desert Mountain backpack, and awards and prizes. We will have a guest speaker come in during the week – last year, Pac-10 player of the year, James Hardent and ASU assistant coach, Scott Pera came and spoke to our campers.

The camp is designed to develop a good fundamental skill set, sportsmanship, teamwork, work ethic, discipline and good listening skills, but most importantly, having fun. I focus on these areas significantly as we proceed through the camp together. Daily full-court games and various contests add excitement to the atmosphere. I want to build confidence, instill the love of competition and develop passion for the game in the boys in our community!

As a physical education teacher, I know how difficult it is to keep our young people physically active in the hot summer months and our camp is a wonderful opportunity for the boys in our community.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me at tfazio@susd.org. The camp brochure can be found online at: www.desertmountainbasketball.com

Thank You,

Todd Fazio
